

Their Precious Cost

Michael D. Young

Kevin G. Pace

The sheep that wan - ders on its own, that will - ing - ly has The gol - den coin once lost by chance is hid - den in a The waste - ful son, who took his part and squand - ered it with gone a - stray, un - to the Shep - herd still is known, and He will seek with - shad - owed place, is sought by more than just a glance, but through the house at aw - ful sin, his fa - ther kept with - in his heart, saw him a - far, and out de - lay. Un - to the Shep - herd, we are ne - ver lost. He fran - tic pace. Un - to our mas - ter, we are ne - ver lost. He brought him in. Un - to our fa - ther, we are ne - ver lost. He knows His sheep. He knows their pre - cious cost! knows each coin. He knows its pre - cious cost!

knows each one, He knows each pre - cious cost!