

Doubt Not, But Be Believing

Lisa Hains Barker

For the Eagle Idaho Stake

Keri Hains Kammerman

$\text{♩} = 84$

Voice

Though I may stand
Though I may stand

Organ

7

qui - et - ly a - gainst the dark - ness seem - ing - ly sur - round - ed - bowed beneath a thund - er - ing sky Soak ing wet and sha - king

10

the night will not pre - vail.
the storm will not pre - vail.

13

Dus - ky whis - per - ings of sin and temp - ta - tion's fi - ery darts
Ra - ging winds and threat - 'ning waves with their ter - ri - fy - ing force will fail. For my Sav - ior's light ra - diates a - round me and I'll will fail. For my Sav - ior's love ra - diates a - round me - to 19

15

fol - low His well lit path. Doubt not, but be be - lie - ving. Hold still the temp - est in my heart.

23

fast to the Heav'nly truth you know. You may have to step in - to the dark-

26

- ness Be-fore glimps-ing the far hor-i - zon's glow.

29

Let His ten-der mer - cies draw you to His shel-ter-ing arms.

33

Seek His light, feel His love, trust His word! Doubt not, but be believ-

38

- ing and all things, all things will work to-gether for your good.

42

2.

Reference: Psalm 119:105